

What About You?

Thinking about your choices and your courage.

In this story, the hero faced sudden fear when danger appeared without warning. Others panicked, but courage meant staying calm, thinking clearly, and taking the right action in the moment.

When the bear appeared at the campsite, what do you think the hero felt in that moment?

Ranger Miller said courage sometimes means staying calm and thinking clearly.

Why do you think staying calm helped solve the problem?

Some campers wanted to run away or hide. What might have happened if everyone had panicked instead?

Courage does not always look like a superhero in a movie. What is one time when you stayed calm and handled a problem well?

The next time something surprising or scary happens, what is one thing you can do to help yourself stay calm and think clearly?
